ABOUT THIS YEAR'S COVER PHOTO

This year's cover photo was taken by Theodosia resident Connie Smiley in the Devil's Backbone Wilderness (see page 22). "My cousins were visiting from Washington State, where they do a lot of hiking, and I enjoyed showing them a little of what Missouri has to offer. We hiked along the North Fork River among stately pines and mature oaks. Besides our conversation, the only sounds we heard were the crunch of leaves underfoot, bird songs and the rush of the river below," she said.

Welcome to the real Ozarks, the one and only Ozark County, Missouri, a remote and rugged haven where nature outshines neon and "heavy traffic" is something you're more likely to encounter on the rivers than on the roads.

Stay for a while, and you too may find there's something magical about the mornings when the mist hugs the hollows as the sun creeps over the hills. And what can compare with a night sky so clear and dark the stars seem close enough to touch?

The rush of the rivers' see-through water, the rhythm of the lakes lapping against their shores, the sounds of the woods, the beauty of spring blossoms floating through the forest . . . Don't be surprised if these treasures call to you the next time you're back in the city.

An Ozark County vacation combines the ease of modern conveniences and the appeal of bygone days. Modern resorts with all the amenities, whether they're tucked "back in the sticks," stretching along the river or overlooking our two Corps of Engineers lakes, offer the same downhome charm and personal friendliness that "mom-and-pop" lodging has provided for decades. Come for a stay, and soon you'll probably feel more like family than guests.

Our hills offer thousands of acres of beautiful conservation areas and national forest webbed by hiking trails and scenic drives and dotted with campgrounds. The abundant wildlife, especially deer and turkey, make Ozark County a prime area for hunting.

And our waterways – lakes and rivers – are famous for trophy-winning fish. Canoeing, kayaking and tubing are popular pastimes on Bryant Creek and the North Fork of the White River, and Ozark County's friendly outfitters are ready to make the adventure easy for you.

If you prefer motorized water sports, the county's two full-service marinas offer rentals of everything you'll need to enjoy a day, or a week, cruising our lakes. Of course, they also offer stalls for you BYOB (bring your own boat) visitors too.

Come to Ozark County, and leave all the stress and hubbub behind. This is not a bright lights, big city kind of place. It's a retreat where visitors and residents slow down, settle in and soak up the peaceful pleasures of some of the oldest mountains on earth.

If you're like a lot of folks, the biggest problem you'll have is leaving. That's what happens when you discover the real Ozarks.

Getting here

Ozark County, Missouri, is nestled amid the hills, rivers and lakes near the center of the Missouri-Arkansas border. This scenic, secluded heart of the Ozarks is far away from rush-hour traffic and big-city hubbub – but easy to get to if you know the way. Come visit!

Driving directions

Directions are to Gainesville, the county seat of Ozark County.

From Branson

Head east on Highway 76 for 14 miles to Highway 160. Then turn east (right) and continue for 45 miles to Gainesville.

From Kansas City

Take US 71 south to MO 7 south to Clinton. From Clinton, take MO 13 south to Springfield. Then take I-44 east to US 65 south. Take US 60 east to Mansfield, and then take MO 5 south to Gainesville.

CANEY MOUNTAIN

Conservation Area

Nearly 8,000 acres of public land includes high-quality forest, woodland and glades providing opportunities for recreation, hiking, horseback riding, wildlife viewing, hunting, camping and more.

OWNER: Missouri Department of Conservation

ACREAGE: 7,899 acres including 1,300 of wildlife refuge

CONTACT: MDC regional office, 417-256-7161

GPS COORDINATES: 36.58568° N, 91.14006° W

HOURS: Open 30 min. before sunrise to 30 min. after sunset

WEB: nature.mdc.mo.gov/discover-nature/places/caney-mountain-ca

Wildlife viewing.

This conservation area helped nurture the rebirth of the eastern wild turkey after the state's population dropped to fewer than 2,500 birds. Today wild turkeys flourish here, as do whitetail deer, squirrels, birds and many other native species. Bald eagle sightings are common, especially during the winter. Two wheelchair-accessible wildlife viewing blinds, placed on the edges of managed food plots, provide a good opportunity for visitors to spot wildlife and take photos. Find the viewing blinds on the MDC website "area map."

Bring creek shoes.

Get your toes wet, look for crawdads or just enjoy the sound of natural water surrounding you in Caney Mountain Conservation Area's water features. The area includes 112 intermittent streams including the 3-mile-long Caney Creek, the Spout Spring and over 40 fish-less ponds

Take a hike.

Two designated hiking trails weave through the center wildlife refuge section of Caney Mountain Conservation Area. The Spout Spring Trail (more details about this hike can be found on page 34) is an easy 1.5-mile out-and-back trail that passes through a variety of surroundings and runs along a creek, giving a glimpse of Spout Spring near the end. The Long Bald Nature Trail is a half-mile loop through glade country. Dozens of other unnamed multi-use trails, gravel roads and forestry roads run throughout the acreage and can be used by the public for hiking, bicycling or horseback riding. Free maps are available at the entry of the Conservation Area if accessed from Highway 181 or can be viewed at nature.mdc.mo.gov/discover-nature/places/caney-mountain-ca.

Managed hunts.

The center of the Caney Mountain Conservation Area, zone 1, is considered the natural area or wildlife refuge. This 1,100-acre section is closed to public hunting all year with the exception of a few managed hunts that include a muzzleloader deer hunt, an archery deer hunt, spring archery and shotgun turkey hunts and a youth-only spring shotgun turkey hunt. Participants are selected for the managed hunts in a lottery drawing, with application deadlines submitted several months ahead of the hunts. For more information or to submit an application to be considered for a management hunt, visit huntfish.mdc.mo.gov.

Public hunting.

Caney Mountain Conservation Area is separated into three zones, and two of them – Zone 3 on the north end and Zone 2 on the south end – are open to public hunting. Hunting is prohibited in the center (Zone 1) "natural area," except for managed deer and turkey hunts (see above).

Caving.

Spelunkers can check out the "wild" caves at Caney Mountain Conservation Area, including the Davis Cave near the entrance off Highway 181. See the website map for icons indicating where the caves can be found.

Camping.

Pitch a tent or bring an RV to camp at one of the many campsites within the park. Each of the three zones has a campsite area that includes privies, fire rings and picnic tables.

Sight it in.

Visitors and residents can sight in weaponry at one of three ranges at Caney Mountain Conservation Area. The archery range features a static range as well as field targets with a tree-stand platform available for use. The rifle and handgun range features target distances of 25-100 yards, and a range restricted to muzzleloaders includes two stations with 50- and 100-yard distances.

Directions

Caney Mountain Conservation Area has three access points. All directions are from Gainesville. Zone 1: Take Highway 181 north 5 miles. Turn left onto Headquarters Road, the graveled entrance to the conservation area. Zone 2: Take Highway 5 north 2 miles. Turn right onto County Road 107 and continue for a half-mile. Zone 3: Take Highway 5 north 10 miles. Turn right (east) onto Highway Y and drive 3 miles, then turn right onto County Road 116. Continue until you reach the entrance.

Glade Top Trail is one of the best places to view the Ozarks' legendary fall foliage. The 23-mile road provides spectacular sweeping views of the surrounding countryside. The fall foliage season varies from year to year, but peak leaf viewing generally lands sometime between the last two weeks in October and the month of November. Photo by Amy Spencer.

Points of interest.

Notable areas here include Hayden Bald, with a table and parking area, and Smoke Tree scenic overlook, providing a pull-off with a bench where visitors can sit and take in the view. The Corbitt Potter area is good for dispersed camping (allowed along the trail). The Arkansas View site offers a picnic table and spectacular views south. Watershed Divide offers a photo opportunity for a vast area of countryside. Willie Lee is another nice camping spot. Wolf Junction has a picnic table, and Big Creek Basin offers an impressive view. Close to the Glade Top Trail on the southwest side, trails are available for hikers, equestrians and dispersed campers. A vault toilet is located at the Hercules Tower trailhead.

Scenic byway.

The Glade Top Trail is Missouri's only National Forest Scenic Byway. Its wide, sweeping views of the Ozarks countryside is beautiful any time of year, but it is especially breathtaking in the fall months, when the hardwoods transform from their usual green blanket into a tapestry of vibrant autumn color. The all-weather road is accessible to all vehicles and is maintained regularly.

Flaming Fall Revue.

Each year the Ava Chamber of Commerce sponsors an outdoor fall festival, the Flaming Fall Revue, at the Caney Picnic Area on the Glade Top Trail. This year's festival is Saturday, Oct. 17, 2020. The event begins with an outdoor church service at 10:30 a.m. followed by live music, fall activities, pumpkin painting, exhibits and local artists, a dessert auction and various dinner options for purchase. For more information, contact the Ava Chamber of Commerce at 417-683-4594 or visit www.avachamberofcommerce.org.

Considered one of the most scenic locations in Missouri, the Glade Top Trail cuts through the Mark Twain National Forest and borders the Hercules Glade Wilderness Area, following narrow ridge tops rising 500 feet above the surrounding rolling countryside.

Wildflowers.

Native to these glades is a high diversity of both common and rare plants. Some of the wildflowers that can be seen along the Glade Top Trail include Arkansas calamint (satureja arkansana), aromatic aster (symphotrichum oblongifolium), Barbara's buttons (marshallia caespitosa var. signata), Bush's skullcap (ccutellaria bushii), Gattinger's goldenrod (solidago gattingeri), Missouri black-eyed Susan (rudbeckia missouriensis), Missouri evening primrose (oenothera missouriensis), purple beardtongue (penstemon cobaea var. purpureus), purple coneflower (echinacea purpurea), rosinweed (grindelia lanceolata), stenosisiphon (stenosisiphon linifolius), silky aster (symphotrichum sericeum), Spanish needles (palafoxia callosa), Trelease's larkspur (delphinium treleasei) and yellow coneflower (echinacea paradoxa).

Overlooks.

Seven overlook pull-off locations provide visitors with panoramic views of the Ozarks that reach 20 miles northwest to the Springfield Plateau and 40 miles south to the Boston Mountains in Arkansas.

Missouri
Black-Eyed Susan

Eastern Collared Lizard

Unique landscape.

Missouri has some of the greatest abundance and diversity of glades in the United States, and Glade Top Trail lies within the heart of the best remaining examples of this unique natural landscape. Also known as barrens, balds or knobs, glades consist of areas of thin soil with relatively large amounts of exposed bedrock, and they're dominated by herbaceous vegetation. The glades provide habitat for some species not generally found in the Ozarks, including the Bachman sparrow, a state endangered species. If you're lucky, you might see the colorful eastern collared lizard, pictured left.

Directions

From Gainesville, travel north on Highway 5 about 25 miles. Turn left on Highway A in Douglas County. Go 3.6 miles and turn left on County Road 409, where you will see a sign for Glade Top Trail. The trail's south end can also be accessed at Longrun, off Highway 95 in Ozark County. From the west, access the trail from Highway 125 two miles south of the Hercules Glade Wilderness.

Our family has been in southern Missouri for more than 175 years. We were raised here, we love this land and we know it well. Our personal relationship with the area will help us to help you in your search for property. We share a kinship with this land. Our ancestors moved here as pioneers in the 1840s, settling about a quarter mile upstream from the mouth of the Barren Fork Creek, where it empties into the Little North Fork of the White River in Ozark County. This area, abundant with wild-life, native flowers, plants and a crystal clear Ozark stream has been designated by the Missouri Department of Conservation as Haskins Ford.

Joe has spent much of his life in education. One concern is maintaining local schools and avoiding consolidation into larger districts. He knows the local schools are often the life-blood of the community.

Joe and Paulette have backgrounds in operating small farms. They believe nothing is more important to the local economy than the success of small farms.

He was raised in a family that operated country stores and knows the plight of small business in these days of larger box stores and on-line competition.

Joe worked for the Department of Social Services covering Ozark and Douglas Counties as an advocate for abused children and daycare workers. He is aware of and understands the needs of local families.

NOBLETT LAKE Recreation Area

Originally constructed by the Civilian Conservation Corps, this scenic recreation area on the shore of a 26-acre lake offers picnicking, fishing, bird watching, canoeing and electric motor boating.

OWNER: Mark Twain National Forest, US Forest Service
CONTACT: Ava/Cassville/Willow Springs Ranger District
 District Ranger Joe Koloski, 417-683-4428
HOURS OPEN: 6 a.m. to 10 p.m.
FEES: No day use fee. Group picnic pavilion $25/day.
GPS COORDINATES: Latitude: 36.90 Longitude : -92.09

Camping: Dispersed primitive camping is allowed in loops below the dam and on the hill across from the Noblett trailhead, known locally as "Sugar Hill." Camping is not allowed in the day use area.

Canoeing and fishing:

Noblett Lake is a popular place to canoe and fish for blue gill, sunfish, bass and catfish. Only electric motors are allowed on the water.

Ridge Runner trail.

This National Recreation Trail provides backpackers, mountain bikers and equestrians with a 36.5-mile route that begins with a 6-mile loop at Noblett Lake and continues south for 21 miles, where it meets a 6-mile loop at the North Fork Recreation Area (see page 22). Horses are not allowed in the day use areas at Noblett Lake or North Fork Recreation Area or near Blue Spring in the North Fork Recreation Area.

The lake.

Noblett Lake Recreation Area was constructed by the Civilian Conservation Corps on the shore of the 26-acre Noblett Lake.

Picnicking, and a pavilion.

Picnic tables and grills are available on a first come, first serve basis. Vault toilets are available. No drinking water is available; visitors must bring their own. The pavilion, pictured right, can be reserved for $25 per day at the website recreation.gov. If not reserved, it can be used on a "first-come, first-serve" basis. Reservations may be made at least four days and up to 12 months in advance. Groups of more than 75 people, whether or not they're using the pavilion, must obtain a special permit; contact Teresa Crow at MTNF, 417-967-4194.

Riding horses.

The Ridge Runner Trail is popular among equestrians who are seeking an all-day ride. A 6-mile loop serves those seeking a shorter ride. Limited trailer space at the trailheads makes it difficult for more than a few riders to use the trail at any given time. Parking is especially limited on spring and fall weekends. Horses are not allowed in the dispersed camping area below the dam, around the lake or in the picnic area.

Lake loop.

The Loop Trail around Noblett Lake on the north end of the Ridge Runner Trail is a good option for day hikers. If vehicle shuttling is an option, the main trunk of the Ridge Runner Trail (see above) also provides point-to-point day hike options.

Directions

From Dora in northern Ozark County, travel north on Highway 181 for 20 miles. Turn right onto State Highway AP and continue about 3 miles. Turn right onto Forest Road 857 and continue for about 1 mile to the turnoff for the day use area. The road continues to the Noblett dam and trailhead.

Blue Spring, a short walk from a North Fork Recreation Area parking lot, is a beautiful (but icy cold) swimming hole nestled in a rock-lined cove. This photo was snapped by local resident Wren Haffner.

NORTH FORK

Recreation Area

North Fork Recreation Area provides camping, picnicking, boating, canoeing, hiking and fishing access to the beautiful North Fork of the White River, which has a total of nine major springs flowing into it.

Blue Spring.

Day hikers can enjoy a .6 mile walk on the Blue Spring Trail from the North Fork Recreation Area campground to Blue Spring, a vibrant, oval-shaped spring about 30 feet in diameter. The spring averages 7 million gallons per day of cold, clear-blue water. The pool is colorful, and the setting is dramatic. On three sides, a stone wall made of cherty Gasconade dolomite rock surrounds the spring and represents the karst topography of the Ozarks. The short walk includes steps and short, steep slopes traveling through lush vegetation and surrounded by unique rock formations. Visitors often can't resist jumping into the icy-cold, clear spring during the hot summer months.

Picnic and swim.

Ten sites with grills and picnic tables are available for day-use picnicking. The area also offers vault toilets, drinking water and centralized garbage collection. This area is used for swimming, tubing and wading during the summer months. There is no lifeguard, and using the water access is done at one's own risk. A $2 per vehicle day use fee is charged for those visiting.

Ridge Runner trail.

This National Recreation Trail provides backpackers, mountain bikers and equestrians with a 36.5-mile route that begins with a 6-mile loop at the North Fork Recreation Area and continues north for 21 miles, where it meets a 6-mile loop at Noblett Lake. The landscape varies from gently rolling to very steep terrain with rock outcrops and buffs. Vegetation along the trail is diverse and includes oak-hickory, shortleaf pine and bottomland forests. Remnant prairie plants can be seen, a reminder of a time when repeated wildfires burned the Ozarks, allowing fingers of prairie to extend into the woods. Horses are not allowed in the day use area at North Fork Recreation Area, near Blue Spring or in the day use area at Noblett Lake. The Ridge Runner Trail can also be accessed at the Hay Hollow Trailhead on Forest Road 759, from Highway 14 east of Twin Bridges. The trail passes through the creek bottom approximately .4 miles south of Braddock Lake. Primitive camping is available at this trailhead.

Directions

From Gainesville, take Highway 181 northeast to CC Highway just south of Dora. Turn right and travel east for 3 miles.

HOURS OPEN: 6 a.m. to 10 p.m.

OPERATIONAL DATES: Gates are open May 15 - Dec. 1, and closed Dec. 1 - March 1.

Walk-in traffic and day use is permitted when gate is closed, but no camping.

Canoe/kayak.

The North Fork Recreation Area is more commonly known by locals as Hammond Camp, especially in reference to the public canoe and kayak access ramp. Small jon boats can be launched here; however, motorized boats are prohibited. This is one of three public access points on the North Fork of the White River. While this access is managed by the U.S. Forest Service, the other two, at Blair Bridge and Patrick Bridge, are managed by the Missouri Department of Conservation. Private access points are offered by local outfitters Twin Bridges, River of Life Farm, Pettit's Canoe Rental, Sunburst Ranch and Dawt Mill Resort.

Camping.

The North Fork Recreation Area offers 20 campsites, each with a picnic table, fire ring, post for a hanging lamp and a tent pad. Drinking water (available May 15 - Oct. 15), vault toilets and garbage receptacles are centrally located. No water or sewer hook-ups for camping trailers are available at this location. Campground nightly fees of $10 for non-electric sites and $15 for electric sites. The use of generators is not prohibited, but quiet hours are from 10 p.m. to 6 a.m.

Devil's Backbone Trail.

The North Fork Recreation Area at Blue Spring serves as a gateway into the Devil's Backbone Wilderness, a 6,687-acre area of wild, public land that takes its name from a long, narrow ridge known to the area's early settlers as the Devil's Backbone. At 1,020 feet, the highest "vertebrae" of the ridge trail glides through the center of the wilderness. The trail is rated as moderately difficult with sometimes steep terrain. Thirteen miles of maintained foot and horse trails follow the Devil's Backbone and four other ridges, dropping off into surrounding hollows in a forest dominated by oaks, hickories and shortleaf pines. Although equestrians are allowed on the trail, they are not allowed near Blue Spring or in the day use area of the North Fork Recreation Area. Alternatively, horseback riders can access the Raccoon Hollow Trailhead from the south side of CC Highway about 1.5 miles east of Dora.

Long Creek Falls, sometimes referred to as the “shut-ins” by locals, creates a beautiful stretch of cascading waterfalls when rains fuel the creek that flows through the Hercules Glade (see page 27). During the drier months, visitors can appreciate the deep cuts that Long Creek has made in the limestone riverbed, pictured above. Photo by Mindy Pippin.

HERCULES GLADE Wilderness

This 12,413-acre wilderness encompasses some of the most scenic and unique country in the Midwest. Its varied landscapes offer unusual beauty and a measure of solitude within easy reach of large numbers of those who love the outdoors.

Hiking.

Hercules Glade features 32 miles of maintained trails to explore by foot or on horseback. The National Forest Service rates the terrain as "more difficult to most difficult." It features steep areas, stream crossings, sparse trail markings and elevations ranging from 600 to 1,200 feet. Due to these conditions, the wilderness area receives only light use. Cross-country hiking is allowed, but those hikers should bring a map and compass or a GPS unit.

Scenic.

Described as some of the "most scenic and unique country in the Midwest" by the U.S. Forest Service, the Hercules Glade Wilderness Area features more than 12,000 acres of open grassland, forested knobs, steep rocky hill-sides, narrow drainages, limestone rock outcroppings and open glades.

Three trailheads.

Three trailheads provide entry to the Hercules Glades Wilderness. The Hercules Tower Trailhead is located along Highway 125, 7 miles north of Highway 160 in Taney County. It has a vault toilet, space for camping and parking. The Blair Ridge Trailhead is also off Highway 125. Turn onto Forest Road 155 and go approximately 2 miles. Only parking is available at this location. The Coy Bald Trailhead, farthest from Ozark County, is off Highway 160, 9 miles east of Forsyth. Turn left onto Forest Road 566 and go approximately 4 miles. Only parking is available at this location.

Dispersed camping.

"Dispersed camping" is allowed in the Hercules Glade Wilderness Area. According to the Mark Twain National Forest Hercules Glade website, the term dispersed camping is used to indicate free camping anywhere in the national forest outside of a designated campground. It also means there are no toilets, no structures, no trash cans, no treated water and no fire grates. Thus, extra responsibilities are required for this type of camping. The MTNF website lists these guidelines:

- Pick a campsite and follow the "Leave No Trace" principles
- Camp 100 feet away from trails or water sources. Treat any water found in the area before consuming it.
- Human waste must be buried at least 6 inches deep and covered.
- Pack out all of your garbage.

The falls.

Known by some locals as "the shut-ins," Long Creek Falls is an impressive display of the power of water on a dolomite creekbottom. The 10- to 12-foot drops, pictured in the center of this page, create beautiful waterfalls. During the wetter months, many visitors can't resist hopping into Long Creek for a refreshing dip. Access the falls from the Blair Ridge Trailhead.

Directions

From Gainesville, head west on Highway 160. Continue about 29 miles to Rueter, then turn right (north) onto Highway 125. Travel about 7 miles and turn left onto the fire tower road to reach the Hercules Tower Trailhead.

The cypress grove at Pigeon Creek Park on Norfolk Lake at Arkansas Highway 201 is a great place for kids to explore, as Paul Goodwin, Emmett Lynne and Esme Landry, all of Gainesville, were doing when this photo was taken in January 2019.

PIGEON CREEK

Trails and Park

The Pigeon Creek public access on Norfolk Lake is a great area to visit for a wide variety of activities. Fun can be had by lake-goers launching boats, fishing, hiking, bicycling and enjoying the unique cypress grove.

Trail system.

The Pigeon Creek "stacked loop" trail system consists of more than 20 miles of bicycling and hiking trails along the shores of Lake Norfolk. The trail system is a favorite with off-road bicyclists and draws a large crowd from all over the Midwest. No horses or motorized vehicles are allowed on the trails. The Pigeon Roast, one of the annual Arkansas Mountain Bike Championship Series events, is held here each spring. Revenue from the race goes to maintain and expand the trail system. The trailhead is on the west (right) side of Highway 201, opposite the boat ramp side, when coming from Missouri.

Corps run.

The Pigeon Creek National Recreation Trail is owned by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers and is maintained through a volunteer program operated by the Twin Lakes Bicycle Club. The trail system can be accessed from Arkansas Highway 201 (a continuation of Missouri J Highway) just south of the Missouri/Arkansas line at Pigeon Creek Park on Lake Norfolk.

Fish.

Anglers can often be found lining the banks of Norfolk Lake, and fisherman with boats use the boat ramp heavily throughout the year. Those fishing here must have an Arkansas fishing license or a Missouri fishing license with a border lakes tag.

Cypress.

A grove of cypress trees, unique in this area, is an appealing area to explore. The majestic trees stand between the lake and the paved access road at Pigeon Creek Park.

Boat ramp, swimming.

The park includes a public boat-launch ramp and parking lot for visitors. The lake in this area is enjoyed by swimmers during the summer months. There is no lifeguard, and using the water access is done at one's own risk.

Directions

From Gainesville, take Highway 160 east to J Highway. Turn right (south) and continue into Arkansas, where the road becomes Arkansas 201. Pigeon Creek Park is approximately 6 miles south of the state line on Lake Norfolk.

Hike the trails – or get off the beaten path! Most public areas also allow hikers to explore areas off designated trails and paths. It's wise to bring a map if hiking off-trail.

HIKING

Trails

1. SPOUT SPRING NATURE TRAIL

Caney Mountain Conservation Area, page 10

Distance and configuration: 3-mile out-and-back trail

Facilities: Restrooms, parking, camping and picnic areas

Description: This easy trail traverses 1.5 miles of the shady depths of Caney Creek Valley in the Caney Mountain Conservation Area's interior. The trail follows Caney Creek most of the way, providing beautiful scenery along the gently rolling hills. There are a few shallow-water crossings along the way, and a picnic table just a short way from the trailhead provides a nice spot for a packed lunch.

Directions: From Gainesville, travel north on Highway 181 to Caney Mountain Conservation Area Headquarters Road, on the left. When you get to the headquarters area, bear right to stay on the Main Trail. The trailhead is 1.5 miles ahead on the right.

2. PIGEON CREEK TRAIL SYSTEM

Pigeon Creek Park, page 31

Distance and configuration: Multiple trails ranging from .5 to 1.5 miles can be joined together for a 20-mile stacked loop

Facilities: Restrooms, parking and picnic areas

Map: www.norfork.com/cycling/trails

Description: The Pigeon Creek Trail System, one of the premier cycling and hiking systems in the Ozarks, is located on the banks of Lake Norfork at Pigeon Creek Park in Arkansas. A stacked loop system provides a wide variety of different trail-length options, which can be linked together for up to 20 miles. The trails vary in difficulty with an elevation difference of 250 feet maximum.

Directions: From Gainesville, head east on Highway 160 for 5 miles. Turn right (south) onto J Highway and continue into Arkansas, where J Highway becomes Arkansas Highway 201. Continue for 8 miles to Pigeon Creek Park just before crossing the Lake Norfork bridge. The trailhead access is on the right (west) side of the highway, and the recreation area is on the left (east) side.

3. BLUE SPRING TRAIL

Distance and configuration: 1-mile out-and-back hike

Facilities: Restrooms, camping, parking, picnic areas and water during warmer months

Description: This very short walk takes you from the campground (known locally as Hammond Camp) to the turquoise, ice-cold waters of Blue Spring. The trail parallels the North Fork of the White River and, after the spring, continues on into the Devil's Backbone Wilderness area. Among the trees, cardinals and other birds glide from tree to tree. Flowering dogwood and redbud trees catch springtime sunshine in the awaking forest and display brilliant colors. Averaging 7 million gallons of cold, clear water each day, Blue Spring creates a deep, oval-shaped pool about 30 feet in diameter. The setting is dramatic: on three sides, a stone wall of cherty Gasconade dolomite surrounds the spring and represents the karst topography of the Ozarks. Horses and motorized vehicles are prohibited from this area of the National Forest.

Directions: From Gainesville, take Highway 181 to CC Highway just south of Dora; turn right on CC and travel 3 miles.

4. DEVIL'S BACKBONE LOOP

Distance and configuration: 10-mile or 13-mile balloon loop options; a 4-mile out-and-back option makes for a good day trip
Facilities: Restrooms, camping, parking, picnic areas and water during warmer months

Map: www.ozarktrail.com/northfork.php

Description: The Devil's Backbone Wilderness includes 13 miles of moderately difficult trails within the area accessible from Blue Spring Trailhead, including a 10-mile loop or a 13-mile loop option. Accessed from the North Fork Recreation Area, known locally as Hammond Camp, visitors can follow the half-mile trail to Blue Spring (horses are prohibited in this trailhead and near Blue Spring), then travel along a bluffline and down to the North Fork River around mile 2. This stop provides a nice spot for a picnic and a 4-mile hiking option to return back to the trailhead for those desiring a shorter trek. After the river, hikers can take a left onto a trail to make a 10-mile loop or continue straight for a 13-mile loop. The other three trailheads – Raccoon Hollow on the south side of CC Highway about 1.5 miles east of Dora; McGarr Ridge Trailhead on the south side of CC Highway about 4 miles east of Dora; and Collins Ridge Trailhead on County Road KK/362 about 16 miles west of West Plains – provide options for point-to-point hikes as well. The terrain is sometimes steep, ranging in elevation from 1,020 to 680 feet, and there are few blazes. Visitors should bring a map and compass and be comfortable route-finding if continuing on past the 4-mile out-and-back hike.

Directions: From Gainesville, take Highway 181 to CC Highway just south of Dora; turn right on CC east and continue 3 miles.

5. RIDGE RUNNER TRAIL

Distance and configuration: 22-mile point-to-point

Facilities: Restrooms, camping, parking, picnic areas and water at trailhead during warmer months

Map: www.ozarktrail.com/northfork.php

Description: The Ridge Runner Trail incorporates parts of two shorter loop routes at Noblett Lake (8 miles) and North Fork Recreation Area (12 miles). The diverse vegetation along the trail includes native wild flowers and remnant prairie species, oak-hickory, shortleaf pine and bottom land forests. The Ridge-runner Trail is rated as moderate and ranges in elevation from 800 to 1,100 feet. The trail is not well defined in some areas and crosses several old logging roads, so visitors should feel comfortable route-finding and should bring a map and compass. Backpackers and hikers should carry plenty of water, as stream accesses are limited to the northern and southern ends of the trail, and water sources can be extremely scarce. The trail is designed and maintained for foot traffic, horse use and mountain bike use. Motorized travel, including on dirt bikes and ATVs, is not permitted.

Directions: From Gainesville, take Highway 181 to CC Highway just south of Dora; turn right on CC east and continue 3 miles.

6. NOBLETT LAKE LOOP

Noblett Lake Recreation Area, page 18

Distance and configuration: 8-mile loop

Facilities: Restrooms, camping, parking, picnic areas and water at trailhead during warmer months.

Map: www.ozarktrail.com/northfork.php

Description: An 8-mile loop trail surrounding the 26-acre Noblett Lake provides an appealing opportunity for hikers, equestrians and mountain bikers. This challenging, single-track loop is crisscrossed by a double-track horse trail and crosses Noblett and Spring creeks and Cord Hollow. Trail users sometimes describe deadfall, difficult route-finding and steep, loose hills on the trek. The east half of the loop, by the lake, forms the northern end of the Ridge Runner section of the Ozark Trail, which ends at the North Fork Recreation Area. The frustrations of this trail are usually more than offset by the beauty of the surroundings, the adventure of an unfamiliar and remote experience, and the great view of Noblett Lake from the amazing downhill section near the end of the hike.

Directions: From Gainesville, take Highway 181 north, continuing past Dora to AP Highway in Douglas County. Turn right and follow AP for about 3 miles then turn right onto Forest Road 857 and continue for about 1 mile to the turnoff for the day-use area. The road continues to the Noblett dam and trailhead.

7. COY BALD LOOP

Hercules Glade Wilderness, page 26

Distance and configuration: 6.8-mile loop linking in with the Hercules Glade system of 32 miles of trails

Facilities: Primitive camping, picnic tables and a pit toilet
Map: www.fs.usda.gov and search for "Hercules Glade"

Description: Coy Bald Trail is a 6.8-mile lightly trafficked loop trail located within the Hercules Glade Wilderness near Bradleyville. The loop features a waterfall and is rated as moderate. The trail offers a number of activity options and is accessible year-round. Dogs are also permitted on this trail but must be kept on a leash. From this and other trailheads in the Hercules Glade Wilderness Area, 32 miles of maintained trails traverse open glades, forested ridgetops and Long Creek, the primary drainage of the area. Cross-country hiking in other parts of the area is allowed. Key attractions along the trail include Long Creek Falls, panoramic views of the Ozarks countryside and a variety of native landscapes, including open limestone glades and mixed forests.

Directions: From Gainesville, head west on Highway 160 for 39 miles. Turn right (north) onto Cross Timber Road (Forest Road 566), and drive approximately 4 miles to the trailhead.

8. BATEMAN TRAILS

Distance and configuration: 16 miles of trail made from several smaller segmented trails ranging from 6.25 miles to .75-mile.

Facilities: Primitive camping, picnic tables and a pit toilet

Description: The Bateman Trail, a non-motorized trail system, consists of approximately 16 miles of hiking and equestrian trail that carries visitors through limestone glades and other landscapes that vary from gently rolling hills to moderately steep terrain with rock outcrops and tall grass prairies. Natural water for horses along the trail is very limited and may be seasonal. Vegetation along the trail is diverse and includes oak-hickory and eastern red cedar trees. Prescribed fire is often used to maintain the unique glade habitats. A good map and compass, along with knowledge of how to use them, are strongly suggested.

Directions: From Gainesville, travel west on Highway 160. Past Theodosia, turn right onto Highway 95 and drive 6.8 miles to the Longrun community. Turn left (north) onto County Road 917 and continue 8.4 miles to Bateman Road.

Several species of fish lure fishermen and women to Bull Shoals Lake, including fun-to-catch stripers like this 45-pounder caught by Mark Sanders while fishing on Bull Shoals in March 2019. Photo courtesy of Pontiac Cove Marina.

BULL SHOALS Lake

Impounded in 1951 when a U.S. Army Corps of Engineers dam was completed on the White River in Arkansas, just south of Ozark County, Bull Shoals Lake was originally built for flood control and power generation. Now the Corps' missions for the lake also includes recreation opportunities. This photo of the sunset over Bull Shoals was taken by Isabella resident Lonnie Schmidt.

Bull Shoals Lake features open stretches perfect for boating; quiet, secluded coves great for swimming and water sports; clear, uncrowded water for scuba divers; and 48,195 surface acres of water that offer great fishing for largemouth and smallmouth bass, crappie and striped bass. Whatever your lake plans, Ozark County's two concessionaire-operated marinas (described below) can get you going.

Pontiac Cove Marina.

Pontiac Cove Marina is a full-service marina, campground and resort located off Highway W southwest of Gainesville. Amenities include nightly and long-term boat slips, boat rentals, fuel dock, scuba air station and a convenience store/gift shop with bait, tackle, Missouri fishing licenses, boating accessories, stand-up paddleboards, towables, souvenirs, snacks, soda and beer. Stay at one of Lake Harbour Resort's six fully furnished suites or at the Red Barn Lodge, which sleeps 10, and Loft, which sleeps five. Eat at Just Jackie's restaurant located within the park and accessible to boaters. The Pontiac bluffs on the northwest corner of the park are a favorite jumping-off point for lake-going daredevils. 417-679-3676. pontiaccove.com. See ad, page 44.

Theodosia Marina Resort.

Theodosia Marina Resort, off Highway 160 in Theodosia, offers rentals of a variety of boats and equipment for fishing and fun on the water. A boat-and-motor sales and repair facility is affiliated with the marina. Marina staff can help you connect with local fishing guides, and the marina's gift shop/convenience store sells fuel, picnic supplies, beverages, fishing tackle and bait, water skis, boat accessories, clothing and novelties. The marina also offers short- and long-term boat-stall rentals. Nearby Fort Cook offers several types of lodging choices plus pads for motorhomes and a swimming pool for guests. The adjoining Corps of Engineers campground and nearby boat ramp stay busy throughout the summer season. And Cookie's restaurant is a popular eatery for tourists and locals alike. 417-273-4444. tmrbullshoals.net. See ad, page 3.

Visitors to Bull Shoals and Norfolk lakes can choose from a long list of recreational options. Fishing, kayaking, boating, tubing and water skiing are all popular options, as well as just hanging out and relaxing on the bank.

NORFORK Lake

Former Times reporter Bruce Roberts took this photo of the brilliant sunset on Norfolk Lake near Pigeon Creek access. (See page 31 for more information on the access.)

About 2,000 acres of the 22,000-acre Lake Norfolk extend into Missouri. Recreation is recognized as an important resource, attracting fisherfolk and water-sports lake-goers who enjoy the Norfolk's clear, spring-fed water. For a beautiful overview of Lake Norfolk, drive across the Highway 101 bridge south of Bakersfield.

Access/boat ramps.

Boat accesses on Norfolk Lake in and near Ozark County include Bridges Creek (known locally as "Stump Hole") located off County Road 551B (Smokey Road), Udall on O Highway, Liner Creek off T Highway and Calamity Beach on Baxter County Road 24 off Arkansas Highway 201 in Clarkridge, Arkansas. The popular Tecumseh boat ramp was washed away in the spring 2017 flood and is currently being rebuilt by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, with a projected May 2020 completion date. The access is closed to foot and vehicle traffic during construction.

Fishing.

Fishing is a popular pastime on Lake Norfolk. Anglers can catch bass, walleye, crappie, striped bass, catfish and other species. The Tecumseh access of Lake Norfolk off Highway 160, an especially popular fishing spot for the annual spring white bass run, is usually preceded by good walleye fishing followed by excellent hybrid catches. At press time, the access was undergoing repairs. Construction is scheduled to be completed by summer.

History.

Lake Norfolk, like Bull Shoals, is in the White River Basin; both were originally built for flood control and power generation. President Harry Truman came to the Ozarks in July 1952 to dedicate both Norfolk and Bull Shoals dams, constructed and maintained by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers in Arkansas a few miles south of the state line.

NORTH FORK of the White River

The cold, clear waters of the spring-fed North Fork of the White River provide the perfect place to cool down with a canoe, kayak or rafting trip during the peak of a hot Ozarks summer. The photos on this page were taken earlier this year by Bryan Bade, pictured on page 50 with an impressive brown trout. Bryan and his wife, Stephanie, own river outfitter Sunburst Ranch (see ad, page 48), a campground and canoe rental business on the North Fork.

Fed by springs and protected by national forest for the top two-thirds of its 50-mile length, the North Fork of the White River in eastern Ozark County is a pristine jewel among Missouri's Ozarks float streams. A national forest recreation area, Missouri Department of Conservation access points, a legendary old grist mill and a Blue Ribbon and Red Ribbon trout areas enhance the river's appeal to vacationers and locals alike.

Year-round beauty.

Since its upper reaches are in the Mark Twain National Forest, the river retains its native natural character and has good watershed protection. The section from Highway 14 (Twin Bridges) south to H Highway (Patrick Bridge) is near-wilderness, and this stretch of river is fed by large springs that emerge amid stands of short-leaf pine and other lush forest. Seasonal water levels are consistent enough to keep the North Fork almost always floatable, and although the gradient of the lower sections is not spectacular as the river flows into Lake Norfork, the volume is good and the scenery is beautiful. If you have visited the North Fork of the White River in the past, be aware that during the historic April 2017 flood, the river reached an all-time high and washed away homes, resorts and bridges, forever changing the river and its banks. The river is now back to a floatable, fishable, enjoyable state, but it definitely looks different than it did before the flood!

River of Life Farm Resort is located about halfway between the CC Highway Bridge and Blair Bridge. Guests and day trippers can rent canoes, kayaks and rafts from this outfitter. The river in this area features the famed "falls," a rock ledge that drops about 2-3 feet. It's a tricky spot, so boaters should be careful navigating the chute. The resort is on River of Life Drive, off County Road 365 south of Dora.

Fishing the NORTH FORK

Sunburst Ranch owner Bryan Bade poses with an impressive brown trout he caught while fishing the North Fork of the White River. The fishing report on this page is reprinted from the Missouri Department of Conservation's annual prospects report. To view the full online report or to check for updates, visit fishing.mdc.mo.gov/reports/north-fork-white-river.

Smallmouth and Goggle-eye.

Smallmouth bass can be caught in good numbers throughout the North Fork of the White River. Most of the fish will be 12-15 inches. However, there are decent numbers of quality fish that exceed 15 inches. Jigs, crankbaits and soft plastic baits are good choices for catching smallmouth bass (soft plastics cannot be used in the Blue Ribbon Trout Area). Goggle-eye also occur throughout the river. These fish can be caught on the same type of lures as smallmouth, but generally smaller versions are more productive. Be sure to concentrate fishing efforts in and around aquatic vegetation, boulders, and rootwads. In-stream and riparian habitat has been naturally changed by a record 1,000-year flood experienced in 2017.

Brown & Rainbow Trout.

Anglers can expect to catch quality trout in a variety of lengths in 2020 but overall should expect fewer numbers of trout when compared to the pre-flood years. Catch-and-release practices are recommended to help sustain trout numbers while the population recovers from the record flood. The Blue Ribbon Trout Area (BRTA) from Rainbow Spring to Patrick Bridge Access, is still the best bet for rainbow trout. Anglers will continue to notice that the body condition of these fish is very good. Wooly buggers and prince nymphs bounced along the bottom are traditionally good wet fly patterns, while Adams and elk hair caddis dry flies work well when fish are surface feeding. Crayfish and minnow-imitating crankbaits as well as various spinners are also effective. Brown trout fishing within the Red Ribbon Trout Area (from Patrick Bridge to Norfolk Lake) is fair. In 2020, anglers should expect the majority of brown trout to range from 12-15 inches, but also expect fewer numbers of brown trout, when compared to the pre-flood years. Quality brown trout may also be caught in the BRTA. To catch more brown trout, try fishing during sunrise and sunset hours. Stocking of brown trout will continue in the spring and fall to provide anglers with quality fishing opportunities. Anglers can also expect more abundant numbers of black bass, striped bass and other warm-water species in this stretch of river due to recent spring and early summer high-water events.

FISHING

CHANNEL CATFISH can be found throughout most of Bryant Creek, although they are most prevalent in the section downstream of Highway 181 at Hodgson Mill. Anglers should expect good fishing for this species and should catch fish of all sizes. Bass anglers can expect good catch rates of black bass (largemouth, smallmouth and spotted bass), although the vast majority of fish will be less than 12 inches.

BASS ANGLERS fishing below Highway 181 at Hodgson Mill will encounter more largemouth and spotted bass than those fishing upstream of the bridge. Ozark bass (goggle-eye) can be found in good numbers around rootwads and aquatic vegetation. Anglers can expect most of their catch to be over 6 inches with an occasional fish greater than 9 inches.

WALLEYE can be found in the lower river inhabiting the deeper pools and positioned around boulders and rootwads.

Bryant Creek, a relatively wild stream, has only slightly less paddling mileage than the North Fork of the White River. It's highly fishable, without the big crowds the North Fork sometimes boasts. Less spring-fed, the Bryant has less volume and can be more difficult to float because it is narrower and has more obstacles. But it also has some fairly fast rifts. Before floating sections above Hodgson Mill in the summer, find out if those sections are floatable without having to wade the shallow riffles.

BRYANT Creek

VERA CRUZ ACCESS

public access, mile marker 0.0

This access is at the uppermost headwaters of Bryant Creek in Douglas County. The Bryant cuts a surprisingly deep valley at this point, leaving interesting bedrock features and beautiful bluffs. To reach the Vera Cruz Access, take Highway 14 east from Ava then turn onto Route AB and go northeast 3 miles.

RIPPEE CONSERVATION AREA ACCESS

public access, mile marker 4.0

The 419-acre Rippee Conservation Area includes the Bryant Creek Natural Area and provides an access point to Bryant Creek that is floatable via canoe during the early spring months when the water is high. This area offers camping, picnic and parking areas. To get to the Rippee Conservation Area access, take Highway 14 east from Ava for 11 miles. Turn onto Country Road 328 and travel south for 1.5 miles.

BERTHA FORD BRIDGE

private access used by the public, mile marker 11.6

Reach the Bertha Ford low-water bridge access in Douglas County from County Road N-345 off N Highway or County Road 95-345 off Highway 95. Floaters may need to portage or walk boats at some points from this access. No amenities; limited parking. Not an official public access.

HIGHWAY 95 - BELL BRIDGE

private access used by the public, mile marker 16.3

Located on Highway 95 south of Gentryville. Low-water bridge and boat ramp. No amenities; not an official public access.

SYCAMORE ACCESS AT HODGSON MILL

public access, mile marker 25.9

The Sycamore Access is located just downstream of a low-water bridge on Highway 181 near Hodgson Mill (see page 62). The creek forms a popular swimming hole near the bridge. The spring that powered the old grist mill flows into Bryant Creek at this point, averaging a daily flow of 24 million gallons; it's ranked 15th in size in the state. The 8-mile section of creek above this access is excellent fly fishing water. To get to this access, travel Highway 181 from Gainesville north for 12 miles.

WARREN BRIDGE ACCESS

public access, mile marker 33.3

Warren Bridge is on County Road 328 between Highways FF and H. A float trip from Sycamore Access to Warren Bridge is one of the most scenic on Bryant Creek. The 2017 flood removed gravel bars and made the area a little harder to negotiate as an access, but for many floaters, it's worth the extra work. To drive there, head north on Highway 181 from Gainesville. About 2 miles past Zanolini Mill, turn right onto Highway FF then left onto County Road 328. Continue east for 2.5 miles.

Historic GRIST MILLS

This rebuilt landmark, once the heart of a tiny Ozarks milling village founded in the mid-1800s, is the modern-day focus of a thriving resort offering fun and hospitality in a beautiful riverside setting. Located northeast of Tecumseh on County Road 318, off Highway 160 via PP Highway, Dawt Mill Resort has several lodging choices, including the Cotton Gin Inn. The open-air Beach Bar Café overlooking the North Fork of the White River serves burgers and other casual fare. Ice cream and picnic supplies are available in the general store, Chef's Table evenings on scheduled evenings or by 24-hour reservation offer a fine dining experience, and the Grist Mill Lounge is open by reservation to serve specialty drinks and appetizers. River-floating rentals and shuttle service are available. Dawt is a popular site for destination weddings. The resort also has camping and picnic sites. For more information, visit dawtmill.com or call 417-284-3540. Photo courtesy of Dawt Mill Resort.

The original mill at Hammond was built in 1856 out of local logs. A replacement mill burned in 1876, and that mill's replacement washed away in a 1904 flood. The current structure was built as a four-story roller mill in 1907. At one time, tall black lettering on the side of the white mill identified the building as the "Home of Ozark Queen Flour." The mill, privately owned, is not open to the public, but it's viewable from County Road 855, off D Highway about 3 miles southeast of Thornfield. At one time the old mill was the heart of a quaint Ozarks village that also included a licensed distillery, a bank, a sawmill, general store and a post office that opened in 1894. Milling ceased at Hammond in the early 1940s, and the little town essentially disappeared after the Bank of Hammond closed. Photo by Jennifer Porter.

This beautiful old grist mill, on Highway 181 about 12 miles northeast of Gainesville, stands a short distance from Bryant Creek, where generations of residents and visitors have cooled off on hot summer days in a swimming hole just above the low-water Highway 181 bridge. The Sycamore access to the Bryant, a creek-gravel boat launch, is just downstream. The first mill on this site was built in 1883, utilizing what is said to be the 15th largest spring in Missouri. Rebuilt by Alva Hodgson in 1897, the mill continued producing flour and meal for decades before falling into disuse. In 1969, Ken and Teena Harrington took over the lease and began producing Hodgson Mill stone-ground products that soon were distributed in grocery stores nationwide. Today those products, in packages carrying a stylized picture of Hodgson Mill, are still sold in some stores, now produced by an Illinois-based company. The mill is closed to the public, but the roadside parking area in front of the overflowing mill pond is a perfect rest stop and picture backdrop. Photo by Karen Eubank.

The original Rockbridge settlement, a few miles away from the present-day site, served as Ozark County's first seat of government. After the town was destroyed by raiders during the Civil War, the post office reopened in 1867 at Rockbridge's present site on Spring Creek off N Highway near the Douglas-Ozark County line. Rockbridge Mill was built here in 1892 by B. V. Morris, whose son, Frank, took over milling operations after his dad's death in 1918. Lile and Edith Amyx and Dr. M. C. and India Amyx purchased the property in 1954 and launched Rainbow Trout Ranch, one of the Ozarks' most successful and enduring resorts. Today, this picturesque attraction sits on 3,000 scenic acres, including 2 miles of sparkling clear Spring Creek stocked with rainbow trout from the resort's own hatchery. A wide variety of lodging facilities is available plus a full-service restaurant that attracts diners from throughout the Ozarks. Resort guests enjoy the swimming pool, horseback trail rides, hiking trails, a gun club and, in season, guided turkey and deer hunts. For more information, call 417-679-3619 or visit rockbridgemo.com. Photo courtesy of Rockbridge Rainbow Trout Ranch.

Located 9 miles northeast of Gainesville on Highway 181, Zanoni Mill features a big, overshot water wheel powered by a hillside spring with a daily average flow estimated at 194,000 gallons. The current mill is the successor to earlier versions that have operated on the site since before the Civil War. A village grew up around the mill, including a general store and post office, a blacksmith shop and a cotton gin. Milling operations ended in 1951, but the general store and post office continued at Zanoni until owner A.P. Morrison's death in 1969. Morrison's daughter, Classy Shanks, then became postmaster and moved the post office a few miles west on Highway 181. Later Zanoni owners Dave and Mary Morrison built a large home they eventually adapted into a popular bed and breakfast; they also rebuilt the mill as a quaint site for special events. Today Zanoni Mill is owned by a private family. The mill and nearby general store and post office, long closed, are no longer open to the public but are viewable from nearby Highway 181. Photo courtesy of Zanoni Mill.

OZARK COUNTY MILL TOUR

63 miles, approximate drivetime 2.5 hours

Ozark County is home to five historic grist mills (see page 62, left), and many visitors enjoy a driving tour to visit them. Here's a route that lets you see the four mills on the west side of the county. A fifth mill, Hammond, on County Road 855 off D Highway south of Thornfield, has been converted to a private residence.

Directions: Starting from the Gainesville square, head east on Highway 160 to Highway 181. Travel several miles on Highway 181, going past the Caney Mountain Conservation Area and continuing to N Highway. Head north on N for 10-12 miles, crossing Highway 95 and continuing on N Highway to County Road 142 (watch for the Rockbridge sign). After visiting Rockbridge, return to N Highway and retrace your route back to Highway 181. Turn left (east) and drive along the ridge and down the steep Zanon Hill. Zanon Mill is on the left (north) side of the road at the bottom of the hill and is viewable from the highway. Continue on 181 another 5 miles or so, and shortly after crossing Bryant Creek, you'll see Hodgson Mill on the right (east) side of the road. Enjoy a photo stop and then head on to Dawt Mill by continuing northeast on Highway 181 to its junction with H Highway. Turn right (south) on H and continue to PP Highway. Turn right onto PP, and a mile or so after crossing the North Fork of the White River, turn right (west) onto County Road 318 at Clear Springs Church. Dawt is about a mile down the road. To return to Gainesville, get back on PP and continue southeast to Highway 160. Turn right (west) on 160 and drive about 11 miles.

GLADE TOP TRAIL LOOP

70 miles, approximate drivetime 3.5 hours

A trip to the Ozarks isn't complete without a ride over the Glade Top Trail (see page 14), Missouri's first National Forest Scenic Byway. The 23-mile gravel roadway offers travelers glimpses of some of the most spectacular panoramic views in Missouri. This drive is particularly scenic during the fall months when the leaves have changed color and the Ava Chamber of Commerce sponsors the "Flaming Fall Revue" event along the trail. The Caney Picnic Area, about halfway, is a nice place to stop and enjoy a picnic lunch, a beautiful view and a breath of Ozark Mountain air. Continue to the trail's end near the Longrun community then drive on to Theodosia to view Bull Shoals Lake before returning to Gainesville.

Directions: Starting from the Gainesville square, head north on Highway 5 for 27 miles into Douglas County. Turn left onto Douglas County A Highway a few miles south of Ava. (Be careful not to turn onto Ozark County A Highway south of Walsola.) Continue on Douglas County Highway A for 3.6 miles. Turn left onto County Road 409 at the sign for Glade Top Trail. Follow the signs along the 23-mile trail. At the trail's end, you can return the way you came or, at Wolf Junction, where the trail splits, bear left on Forest Service Road 147 for about 2 miles. The gravel road will turn onto hard-surfaced Highway 95 near Longrun. Turn right (south) onto 95 and drive to Highway 160. Turn left (east) onto 160 and continue about 20 miles back to Gainesville. You will cross Theodosia Bridge over Bull Shoals Lake about 3 miles after turning onto Highway 160.

BRANSON VIA HIGHWAY 160

60 miles, approximate drivetime 1.5 hours

Visitors either love or hate the drive from Gainesville to Branson over crooked, hilly Highways 160 and 76. A favorite of sportscar and motorcycle enthusiasts, this drive features lots of hairpin curves and long stretches of national forest beauty. It isn't the best option for those who suffer from car sickness or those driving large RVs. Once in Branson, visit the Silver Dollar City theme park, watch one of the many music and variety shows or visit The Landing in downtown Branson for shopping and dining. College of the Ozarks, nicknamed "Hard Work U," is in nearby Point Lookout. C of O's Keeter Center is a favorite restaurant (keeter-center.edu for hours and directions).

Directions: Starting from the Gainesville square, head west on Highway 160 and continue 45 miles to the junction of Highway 76 west near Forsyth. Turn left onto 76 and continue 12 miles to Branson, carefully following road signs.

VISIT THE BUFFALO RIVER

194 miles, approximate drivetime 4 hours

A little south of the Missouri border in Arkansas is the beautiful Buffalo National River near the towns of Ponca and Jasper. A favorite day trip for locals, this area features massive towering bluffs, countless waterfalls, a beautiful river and one of the largest elk herds in the area. Visitors can check out nearby trails including Whittaker's Point trail to the widely photographed Hawksbill Crag formation. Visit the Ponca Elk Education Center, canoe the scenic river or watch for elk. Autumn early mornings and sunsets are particularly good times to view them.

Directions: Starting from Gainesville, head south on Highway 5 into Arkansas. Continue 20 miles, and in Midway, Arkansas, take a slight right onto Highway 126 and drive about 7 miles to Highway 62/412 west. Turn right (west) and drive 67 miles. Then take Highway 43 south to Ponca, a good place for a rest stop. Turn onto Arkansas Highway 74 east and continue 14 miles to Jasper. To head back to Missouri, take Arkansas Highway 7 north from Jasper for 13 miles back to Highway 412. Turn right and continue 40 miles back to Gassville, where you'll turn left (north) onto Arkansas Highway 126. Continue to Highway 5 north in Midway which will return you to Gainesville.

CASS ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ MARTIN OZARK COUNTY SHERIFF

I am a lifelong resident of Ozark County and by growing up here in Ozark County, I want to provide not just my children but everyone's children and family members a safe environment to raise their families.

I want to work ever so diligently for the families and communities whether it be by taking a very active role in our schools or by advocating community watch programs throughout the county. I just want the community to know their law enforcement is working hard for them and listening to them. I want to battle the opioid and substance problem that has plagued southern Missouri for so long. I want to build community trust through community policing and transparency. I believe in order to provide the best law enforcement, training is essential in having a successful law enforcement agency. I would appreciate your vote August 4, 2020.

THEODOSIA SIZZLIN' SUMMER KICK-OFF

May 23, 2020

The Theodosia Area Chamber of Commerce hosts the Sizzlin' Summer Kick-off even every year at the Bull Shoals Lake Shopping Center on Highway 160 across from the Theodosia post office. The event, which raises money for the Fourth of July fireworks show over Bull Shoals Lake at Theodosia, features food, crafts, music, information and fun. Booth space is free but limited; contact Vikki Cook at Cash Saver Pantry, 417-273-4784, for booth-space info. And find out more about the festival by calling the Theodosia Area Chamber of Commerce at 417-273-4245 or by visiting theodosiaareachamber.com.

FIREWORKS DISPLAYS

July 3, 4 and 11, 2020

Come celebrate the Fourth of July, Ozark County-style! The county's free fireworks displays are open to everyone, although related festivities, including games, food vendors and fundraiser offerings may have charges or request donations. Enjoy the fun on July 3 at the Pontiac campground and Pontiac Cove Marina on Bull Shoals Lake; on July 4 at the Corps of Engineers park and Theodosia Marina Resort off Highway 160, also on Bull Shoals Lake; and on July 11 in Bakersfield, where a fun-filled "picnic" featuring vendors and music will precede the fireworks display on July 11. The celebration usually also includes the annual Bakersfield all-school reunion.

BAKERSFEST

Sept. 12, 2020

Bakersfest, the annual festival that celebrates everything Bakersfield, packs the little town with happy folks who gather each year on the second Saturday in September. Festival events vary a little with each rendition but usually includes a big car show and lots of family-style activities with food vendors and game booths that fill the town's Pride Park with colorful fun. The event usually includes the crowning of Bakersfest royalty.

Ozark county's famed

HOOTIN AN HOLLARIN

Sept. 17, 18, 19, 2020

Three days of hillbilly heritage and good, old-fashioned family fun

Ozark County's Hootin an Hollarin festival has been drawing families, friends and visitors together on the Gainesville square for nearly 60 years. The beloved event celebrates old-fashioned traditions and highlights downhome country music all day and into the night. Square dancers swirl under the lights, accompanied by some of the Ozarks' best fiddlers and strummers. A wide variety of contests – turtle races, gun and archery shoots, a quilt show and such silliness as hog- and husband-calling contests – keep the laughter and adrenaline flowing. And through it all, a large outdoor craft fair offers the cleverest handmade items imaginable.

A queen and her court

Hootin an Hollarin begins late in the afternoon on the third Thursday in September with a musical kick-off that sets everyone's toes to tapping. Then comes one of the festival's most popular events: the Hootin an Hollarin queen contest when teen girls from all over the county, clad in their best old-time dresses, share tales of sweet family memories and goofy hillbilly shenanigans.

...and a passel of young'uns

Some area schools let out early on the afternoon of the third Friday in September, and everybody from babies to great-grandmas dress up in their hillbilly best for the costume parade and contest. Next, little boys and girls charm the crowd as contestants in the Lil Cedar Pete and Lil Miss Addie Lee contest, followed by the Hootin an Hollarin princess pageants.

What? You've never seen an outhouse race?

Well, get yourself down to the Gainesville square when the Hootin an Hollarin outhouse racers come streakin' down the street. The competition begins right after the bed races, another crowd-pleasing event. Check out the schedule in the Hootin an Hollarin magazine (published the week before Hootin an Hollarin by the Ozark County Times). And make sure you're on time for the Hootin an Hollarin pet show Saturday morning and the Big Parade Saturday afternoon. There's so much to see and do (and hear and eat and enjoy) at Hootin an Hollarin, you're sure to have a hillbilly good time!

More information

Find continual updates on Hootin an Hollarin festival plans on the Hootin an Hollarin Facebook page, at hootinanhollarin.com or by reading the Ozark County Times. The Times' Hootin an Hollarin festival guide, inserted into the Times newspaper, will be published Sept. 9, 2020.
